My name is Sarah Adel Aljohani. I am a Saudi under-graduate student. I studied Secondary School in Saudi Arabia and then studied four years in Banking and Finance at Imam Abdulrahman Bin Faisal University, to obtain a bachelor degree.

I would like to study the final year of this Bachelor's degree in the UK. I feel it will give me a better chance to pursue my studies, by applying for a master's degree in finance in the UK afterwards.

I have studied an English language course in the UK this summer, to improve my English and also to familiarize myself with British culture before making the decision to study in UK.

The reason I wish to continue my studies in the UK is because of the high academic status of most of its universities, and because I believe that would help me find better career opportunities in the future in my home country.

Studying finance has always been a goal of mine, as it consists of elements which I believe pertains to my current skills. Dealing with finances interests me and I'm keen on finding ways to make money go further. so I have decided since I was in Secondary school to do a bachelor degree in finance. Now, I would like to complete this degree in the UK and I wish that I will be accepted.

I believe that I am an ideal candidate to study this degree in Finance, because of the experience that I got during my college years at Imam Abdulrahman in Faisal University. also,I took many courses in the field of Management and Human Resources during my under-graduate years.

The ability to adapt to different situations and make a good outcome from them, make me feel competent in coping with the academic side and living in a new environment. I have also taken courses in this field to improve my professional skills.

My personal interests and hobbies are Horse riding and Archery. I am a social person and I love to plan events.

In 5 years from now, I see myself working as an finance analyst in one of the best companies in Saudi Arabia, whilst working towards having my own business.
