To Whom It May Concern
Re: Lubna Imad Hashem
Date of Birth: 05 April 2005

I am pleased to write a recommendation letter for Lubna Hashem. I taught her Business Management in grade 11. Lubna is a well-mannered, ambitious and determined student. She is disciplined and organized. She is passionate about her work and is focused on achieving her goals.

Lubna is constructive and works well as a team member and has demonstrated leadership potential. She can link and apply the subject teachings to the practical world. She has developed evaluative skills by carefully examining the short and long run consequences of business policies on various stakeholders.

Lubna is on time for submissions of her subject assignments. She is observant and a critical thinker. She initiates productive discussions, related to the topics in class and is able to understand the importance of different external factors affecting businesses. She likes to give a creative twist to the projects she undertakes to make it more interesting. Lubna learns from her mistakes and does what it takes to fix them. She accepts challenges and takes calculated risks.

Lubna has developed great interpersonal social and communication skills through her extra-curricular and co-curricular projects. She has worked in a café where she learnt negotiation skills as well as leadership skills, as she was responsible for training the new employees. Lubna proved herself in her workplace and handled all tasks responsibly. She is quite passionate about Jujitsu, a Brazilian form of martial arts and is in line to become the one of the few youngest females on the Saudi national team. Learning this art has made Lubna confident, patient and steadfast in achieving a goal. She plans to open a Jujitsu academy for women and kids in the future, and hence make a positive contribution to the local and global community. Apart from this, Lubna is a member of the MUN club. She also likes cooking and feels this has made her patient to wait to get a good result. She is an open minded individual and likes to experience new things. Lubna is learning Spanish and hopes to be mastering it soon.

Lubna is a well-mannered student and respected by her peers. I am pleased to recommend Lubna to your institution and wish her success in her future endeavors.
