

November 20, 2022

Dear King's College London,

This is a referral letter for Lama Nowailaty.

Lama Nowailaty has worked with PricewaterhouseCooper for nearly four years.

I have witnessed her exponential growth and her consistent resolve to tackle challenges as they arise, she was regularly involved in solving problems while dealing with clients and projects. She works well with colleagues and managers by always being attentive to assist and help.

Her ability to capture and retain audiences is one of her most notable strengths as she displays confidence and pride that stems from deep understating in any project she partakes in. She is also committed to her work and manages her time efficiently.

I believe Lama has the potential to excel and thrive in your prestigious learning institution, as she displays high intellect and an unwavering drive to pursue self-development in both knowledge and skills.

Yours faithfully,

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'Yaseen', with a long horizontal stroke extending to the left.

Yaseen AbuAlkheer
Licensed Partner

for and on behalf of PricewaterhouseCoopers