To Whom It May Concern

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation for Ms. Retal AlGhamdi whom I have known for the last 3+ years in her capacity as an undergraduate student majoring in Psychology at Effat University, Jeddah, Saudi Arabia. Retal has taken many courses with me, and I found her intelligent, hardworking and dedicated. She regularly attended her classes, always participated in group discussions, and submitted her written assignments and projects on time. She has maintained a good GPA throughout; her last semester GPA is 3.56, and her current CGPA is 3.03/4.

In addition of being academically good, Retal has very actively participated in many co-curricular and community service activities within and outside Effat University, e.g., she participated in a community services program organized by Effat University called FISH project related to the waste management. She was the student representative of Psychology Department and College of Humanities during the academic year 2019-2020, and very efficiently presented the students' concerns to college dean and the department chair.

Retal is very passionate about increasing the awareness of mental health in her community; she has participated in many events aimed to spread such awareness.

She has been the member of many student clubs and has been a very actively contributing to the club activities.

Besides being a hardworking student, Retal is a well-behaved and responsible person. With her conscientiousness and passion, she will pursue any endeavour with integrity and commitment. I strongly recommend her for the admission in the Graduate Program at your university

Should you need further comments, please don't hesitate to contact me.
