To Whom It May Concern
Re: Yasmeen Wassim Khashoggi
Date of Birth: 10 November 2005

It is a great pleasure to recommend Yasmeen Khashoggi for admission to your university program. I taught Yasmeen in my IB Math Application and Interpretation SL course. I have found Yasmeen to be an exceptionally well-motivated and determined student. She is, without a doubt, a bright and intellectually mature individual. She relished being challenged by the material and welcomed every opportunity to grow as a thinker.

Academically, Yasmeen works consistently hard and has always achieved excellent grades. She was able to maintain a GPA of 4.0 which reflected her hard work and commitment towards her learning. Yasmeen has proven to be an independent learner who takes responsibility for her learning. Her contribution to class discussions was valuable and her comments were always insightful and intelligent as she consistently faced complex and challenging material during the delivery of the course. She was always ready to participate and try to find the best method to solve any problem with her classmates while demonstrating being respectful of others' different approaches.

Most importantly perhaps, Yasmeen is a mature, sensitive and responsible team player besides being the quiet observer. She possesses very good analysis and critical thinking skills which was reflected in her math Internal Assessment which is an independent math research completed over the 2-year course as a real life application of the skills students have acquired. She is also a very dedicated student with excellent time management and organization skills. She never missed class, never showed up late and always submitted her work on time. I am confident that she will be an asset to any institution she decides to attend and that she will take full advantage of the opportunities she is given.

As an active student, Yasmeen has utilized her confidence, personality and leadership to excel in a variety of school and community activities such as joining the MUN club and volunteering in a local charity organization called 'Live to Give' where she helped to provide food for less fortunate children. She also participated in organizing a library for the community by working on categorizing the donated books by genre, language, and type.

As teacher, I am very confident that Yasmeen will consistently work hard to secure a successful future, and would add value as a learner and leader to any academic institution she plans to join. She comes very highly recommended.

Sincerely,
