

To whom it may concern

I am pleased to recommend Talal Alhuraybi to pursue a Master degree at your school. I have had the opportunity to observe Talal's professional skills as well as interpersonal style since 2021. He has genuine drive and desire to excel in higher education and beyond. He has the potential, interest and breadth of true academic achiever and professional consultant.

Talal is pleasant, and takes on assignment with enthusiasm and dedication. Regardless of deadlines or other pressure, Talal always delivers multi-task on time. He has good organizational skills and pleasant demeanor when working with people.

He has proven himself to be fast learner, hard-working young man. He can be also trusted to take initiative when it comes to finding innovative ways to solve high level issues. During a short period of time, he managed to understand the Corporate Business Plan processes and improve them.

He is an expert with system an analytical problem. Talal is persistent without being annoying, and above all he gets tasks done on timely manner. Talal talent is well-known among his colleagues; they routinely go to him for assistance with their tasks, and he is always happy to help.

He has demonstrated several strength characteristics such as reliability, confidence, and his ability to be a team player. He has been involved in many projects, which involved analyzing the three years corporate business plan expenditure and labor costs. He successfully completed task and exceed all expectations by doing thorough analysis and providing sound recommendations.

Talal is proficient in verbal and written communication. He participates in delivering high level reports and presentations. He is eager to enhance company performance and increase his job knowledge. Moreover, he strives in making deference and to inspire others to so the same.

I highly recommend Talal to be part of your program.
