

Gap Year

My journey started after graduating high school I decided that I wanted to take a gap year before starting one of the biggest chapters in my life so I took the time to explore myself and my passions and see what road I wanted to take and where it will lead me to in the future. I spent a lot of time educating myself learning more about all of my passions in life very deeply and practicing all of my interests to see if I want to make it as a career choice I have also taken different lessons in the Misk Foundation (find your path) program

Also three certificates from the Higher Institute for Tourism and Hospitality in Conference Event Organization, Sales Techniques, Food and Beverage preparations. I also started working at AMC Cinemas as a crew member I have been in charge of the food and beverage preparation, the box office in charge of selling tickets and giving the guests all of the information regarding the movies, ushering auditoriums making sure of all the screens working correctly, everything is clean, and making sure everything is going well throughout each movie so the guests have an amazing experience also F&B sales, MACGUFFIN where we serve milkshakes smoothies mojitos and a certified STARBUCKS barista.
