

Personal statement

The world today is more intertwined than ever before, the globalization of supply chains and industries introduces a new set of opportunities and with it comes equally big challenges. I believe that each individual is an asset that possesses a spectrum of capabilities. If utilized effectively, these capabilities may lead to synergies that generate greater value within communities and ultimately become integrated global citizens impacting the whole world.

As an aspiring global citizen, I envisage myself as an active member who seeks to solve challenges related to finance and accounting. Many challenges and opportunities exist today ranging from the ever-changing regulatory landscapes that require agile compliance responses, fraud and money laundering that compromise the integrity of organizations as corporate citizens and ensuring the proper utilization of technology and AI within the finance and accounting value chain. Being a citizen in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia presents many opportunities. Currently, there are relentless efforts to increase the participation of small and medium enterprises in the country's GDP. This would require proper governance of those companies which includes financial and accounting governance. Many entrepreneurs are competing for market share, and I believe there's plenty to go around.

Critical steps must be taken to ensure I am able to outperform the challenges and capitalize on the opportunities related to finance and accounting. First, self-preparation and reading are essential and can be maximized by becoming part of an alumni who sees eye to eye on the opportunities and challenges in the industry. The pathway to success will not be easy. Still, with consistency, hard work, and networking I believe I can secure my place in a top accounting firm that will support my knowledge expansion endeavors and practical skills to effectively and ethically spin out with my own firm and capitalize on the challenges and opportunities.

With my ambitions and hard work, I will have a positive impact on my fellow colleagues and vice versa. I am eager to become part of your institution to engage in stimulating discussions, immerse myself in real-world case studies, and develop a deep understanding of the principles that drive financial success.

By joining the accounting and finance program at your university, I am confident that I will be equipped with the necessary skills, knowledge and experiences to excel in this field. The specifically university's reputation for excellence, experienced faculty, and comprehensive curriculum align perfectly with my aspirations. I am eager to engage in stimulating discussions, immerse myself in real world case studies, and develop a deep understanding of the principles that drive financial success.

In conclusion, my motive is to increase the value I deliver to the world as a global citizen by selecting an area of interest where I believe many challenges and opportunities exist today in order to follow my self development roadmap that begins with my own efforts and propelled by becoming part of your university to eventually become part of an alumni that continuously supports fellow alumni in their endeavors to maximize our value delivered to the world.
