

For those who may be concerned,

I had the pleasure of teaching Shaden in her first year in Design college in Imam Abdulrahman Bin Faisal University in KSA. From the first day of class, Shaden impressed me with her passion for reading, writing, and creative expression- both in and out of the classroom. She was keen to work hard to upgrade her English level, both spoken and written.

Throughout the year, Shaden was an active participant in class discussions, and she always supported her peers. Her caring nature and personality allow her to work well with others in a team setting, as she always respects others' opinions even when they differ from her own. During our classes, Shaden demonstrated this openness to and empathy for the opinions, feelings, and perspectives of others, along with shrewd powers of observation and a high sense of self-confidence, all qualities that make her outstanding as a student.

I am certain that Shaden is going to continue to do great and creative things in her future. I highly recommend her for admission to your undergraduate program. She is talented, caring, intuitive, dedicated, and focused in her pursuits. She consistently seeks out constructive feedback so she can improve her writing skills, which is a rare and impressive quality in a student. Shaden is truly a stand-out individual who will impress everyone she meets.
